AEROPLANE FUND GROWS

A $200,000 Donation

It is reported that the greatest enthusiasm prevails among the Chinese citizens of the Colony in the matter of raising funds for the purchase of flying machines in honour of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek's 50th Birthday Anniversary.

Already over $140,000 has been subscribed, and Sir Robert Ho Tung being at the head of the list with a contribution of $100,000.

But yesterday, to the surprise of everybody, Mr. Fuk Chi-ting, a Chinese millionaire of Canton, topped the list with the handsome contribution of $200,000 which has already been telegraphed to the Birthday Fund Raising Committee in Nanking.

It is said that local Japanese residents have been greatly affected by the fervid patriotism of the Hong Kong Chinese, and that some have even added their small contributions to the local house to house collecting committees in unforgotten admiration of Chinese patriotism.

Daring Robbery In City

ACCOUNTANT RELIEVED OF $2,500

A daring daylight robbery was perpetrated in the heart of the City yesterday afternoon shortly before 2.45 p.m.

The victim was Yu Wai Ting, 58 years, accountant of the Foo Lung building contractors, No. 150, Wellington Street, ground floor.

An earlier police report stated that two or three men robbed Yu Wai Ting of $2,500 in banknotes and made good their escape.

The incident occurred in D'Almeida Street near its intersection with Wellington Street which is one of the Colony's busiest centres. The robbers were unarmed, it is stated.

About 2.45 p.m. yesterday afternoon, the victim was walking in Wellington Street followed by three Chinese men. Suddenly one of the men threw a basket, which had a dark piece of cloth inside, over his head, while the other two men snatched away a bag in which he had the money.

It is believed the money was drawn from the Bank of China yesterday afternoon.

Dismissed

SCHOOLMASTER'S CASE

A startling revelation was made by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday morning when he said that he had received a threatening postcard from an unknown person. "The writer of this postcard is laying himself open to prosecution," the Magistrate remarked.

The incident occurred when Mr. Hin Shing Lo made an application for a rehearing of the case of Li Kwai-fong, schoolmaster, who was dismissed on a charge of having carnal knowledge of an eleven-year-old girl, Chan Lai-wo, a fortnight ago.

BRIBERY ALLEGED

TRIAL OF INDIAN CONSTABLE

TRANSFER MATTER SEQUEL

Harchand Singh, constable, appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon, charged with giving a bribe of $220 to Lance Sergeant C. Gough on September 15, with a view to influence his conduct as a public servant.

Mr. E. H. Williams, Assistant Attorney General, appeared for the Crown, while Mr. G. S. Hugh Jones appeared for the defence.

Mr. Williams said that the duties of Sgt. Gough were to make recommendations of guards to ships and ashore.

Sgt. Gough had been stationed in the guards office since July 18, as assistant to Sub-Inspector Baker, who was in charge of the guards.

On August 15, about 7.25 p.m. Sgt. Gough was having dinner with Sgt. Farquhar in their quarters, when the defendant appeared and stated he wanted to see Sgt. Gough.

When asked what his business was the defendant took a bottle of whisky from his pocket and offered it as a present to Sgt. Gough, who refused it and told the defendant that he did not drink. The defendant suggested beer, which was again refused.

COLONY CRICKET TEAM RETURNS

Good Fielding In Interport Game

CAPTAIN'S VIEWS ON MATCH

The Hong Kong Interport cricket team arrived back up the Colony from Shanghai aboard the P. and O. liner Rawalpindi which berthed at the Kowloon Wharf. The Hong Kong C.C. flag was flying on the masthead of the liner as she steamed up the harbour towards the pier.

In an interview with Press representatives, Mr. T. A. Pearce, captain of the team, revealed that C.C. Garthwaite did not bowl in the Interport match as he was suffering from an arm injury. Gosano's leg injury did not appear to give him much trouble.

"The winning of the toss" said Mr. Pearce, "had a great deal to do with the ultimate result of the game. The Hong Kong fielding was good, although we did not have much luck, as several of the catches did not go to the hand. Fincher's innings of 127 not out was a very good knock."

Presentation To
Capt. Caffyn

SPLENDID SERVICE

Members of the Council of the Hong Kong Rifle Association met yesterday evening in the Jacobean Room of the Hong Kong Hotel to bid farewell to Captain L. D. Caffyn, R.M., an old and faithful member of the Council, who is leaving the Colony next week.

Opportunity was taken to present him with a silver mounted whisky decanter, suitably inscribed, and bearing the crest of the Rifle Association.

In making the presentation, Major R. D. Walker, President of the Rifle Association expressed keen appreciation for the part played by Capt. Caffyn in the Association. From its very inception, Capt. Caffyn had been a stalwart and was in fact one of the pioneers. He had been responsible with Capt. Gray and others, in fastening interest of the Naval "powers that be" in the Association.

MEMBERSHIP

The present strength of the Association, at the moment was in excess of 5,000 affiliated members and 250 ordinary members. No one would have thought this possible when the Association was first

COMMUNICATION FACILITIES

Chengtun-Chungking
Highway

EXPERIMENT
PLANNED

Nanking: Alive to the importance of communication facilities in national reconstruction, the Ministry of Communications has laid down new plans for the development of posts, telegraphs, navigation and aviation.

In addition to the present postal facilities the ministry will buy a number of buses for the conveyance of postal matters by highways. This plan will be first experimented on the Chengtu-Chungking highway in Szechwan and then extended to various highways in Shensi, Kansu, Yunnan, Kweichow and other frontier and interior provinces.

To facilitate the transportation of postal matters by railways post offices will be set up at all important railway stations and on trains.

INCREASE EXPECTED

According to the latest statistics, there are at present 1,988 post offices and 9,785 agencies scattered throughout the country. The numbers are expected to be greatly increased when the new plan is materialized.

As a practical aid to rural recovery, postal savings is planned, will hereafter be mainly devoted to rural enterprises. Preparations are under way for the construction of a number of granaries in Hangchow, Kunshan, and Changsha where the needed farmers may mortgage their agricultural products for loans.

To curtail the large sum of money expended annually for the purchase of telegraph apparatus and parts from abroad the ministry is planning to establish a factory for the manufacture of such appliances.

NEW CHAPTER

The recent completion of the nine-province long-distance telephone lines has written a new chapter in the history of this phase of communication development. Continuing its efforts in this respect the ministry will extend the network of long-distance telephone lines in other provinces in accordance with a comprehensive plan previously laid down.

Meanwhile, steps will be taken to unify the administration of long-distance lines run by the ministry and the provincial government in order to, heighten working efficiency.

Recognizing the need of more new steamers for the development of navigation, the ministry intends to purchase number of high-speed vessels as soon as funds are available. These will be commissioned on various lines. The China Merchants' Steam Navigation Company only recently constructed four new vessels, besides the 24 steamers it already had.

Commercial aviation will be further developed through the inauguration of a number of new routes linking the frontier provinces with the interior and leading cities. This necessitates the purchase of more planes. Plans for raising the necessary funds are being considered by the ministry.

For repairing planes and constructing plane parts the ministry is also considering the establishment of a work-shop for these purposes. (Central News Agency)

SCIENTIFIC ORGANISATION OF WORKS

The organization of a technical enterprise, on scientific lines, was preferably divided between the scientific director and the works manager, who worked together under the authority of the managing director, to ensure the smooth operation of the works. The works manager was in charge of the manufacturing departments, and the various testing and control laboratories which were directed by the departmental managers. The scientific director, on the other hand, had under his immediate control the research laboratories, the information bureau, and a certain number of engineers or chemists, who were specialists in the principal productions of the factory. The scientific director occupied a position as it were at the centre of a double pyramid. Towards him converged various problems, among them the present

STEP IN LAND ADMINISTRATION REFORM

Kiangsi Adopts
Aerial Survey

GOVERNMENT PLANS
PROGRAMME

Nanking: Of far-reaching importance to Kiangsi's land administration reform is the aerial survey of land now being conducted by the provincial government, for which a part of the $3,000,000 Kiangsi Land Readjustment Bonds for the 25th fiscal year recently approved by the Legislative Yuan will be appropriated, when issued.

The surveying work, according to a comprehensive scheme worked out by the provincial government, will be carried out by three stages in a period of six years. In the first stage the work will be carried out in districts in central Kiangsi. In the second stage in the former bandit-devastated areas in northern Kiangsi and in the third stage in districts in south and eastern Kiangsi.

GREAT CONFUSION

After the ravages of Communist bandits under the notorious 'Red' chieftains Chu Teh and Mao Tse-tung and the devastation of floods, drought, and other natural calamities, Kiangsi's land administration has been thrown into great confusion.

Determined to bring order out of chaos, the provincial authorities decided in 1932 to embark upon a programme of aerial survey, which has many advantages over the old method of surveying, especially with respect to mapping rugged and inaccessible districts.

As a preliminary step, the new method was experimented in a number of districts around Nanchang. From May 1, 1932 to July 31, 1934 altogether 8615 photographs were taken from planes.

The success of the experiment led the provincial authorities to extend aerial survey on a provincial-wide scale.—

MODERN BUILDING

Although great improvements have been effected in recent years in the design of public buildings and offices, it may be doubted whether any corresponding advance has been made in the construction of private dwellings. The very large number of houses which have been erected to overcome the housing shortage, for example, usually follow closely on the lines of earlier buildings of similar type, and it may be doubted whether many of them are one whit better in design or construction from any material standpoint than equivalent houses built before the war. No doubt this is largely due to the restrictions imposed on the architect by the materials at his disposal, but it may also be suggested that he tends to follow a rather conservative policy.

The experience gained in timber, steel, concrete, and houses built with other unconventional materials during and after the war suggests that brick and stone still constitute the best materials for private dwellings, but the arrangement of such houses still calls for unfavourable comment in many cases, draughty and ill-lighted rooms being not at all uncommon, and space being frequently wasted in a manner which would not be tolerated in a factory.

There appears to be a widespread conception that no two houses should be exactly alike even in a row of new villas, and it is very improbable in these circumstances that all the houses will be equally well arranged. Apart from the main structure, however, the newer dwellings offer decided advantages from the point of view of the fittings, and it is in this direction that the chief progress was sought at the twentieth biennial Building Trades Exhibition recently.—"Engineering" and future needs of clients pointed out by the commercial department, perspectives opened out by research, bibliographical information, and incidents and difficulties occurring in manufacturing operations. From him emerged suggestions for solving these difficulties, improving the works processes, or developing new products, these suggestions being prompted by the results of laboratory work and tests in the workshops. BIG STEEL PLANT FOR AUSTRALIA

Sir Henry Gullett, the Minister for Trade, announced in the House of Representatives recently that a million pound plant for the manufacture of steel sheets for motor-car bodies will be established in Australia by the Arco Company of America in conjunction with the Lysaght Company of Australia.

Several overseas motor corporations, enjoying a world-wide reputation, added Sir Henry Gullett, are expected to start manufacturing motor-cars in Australia in the near future.

The establishment of the Arco-Lysaght plant will considerably reduce the imports of foreign steel.

MOSCOW'S NELSON TOUCH

The decline of Marxian Communism into bourgeois respectability continues apace.

The latest manifestation of this tendency is the announcement that the famous slogan, "Workers of the World Unite," is to be eliminated from the arms of the U.S.S.R.

In the place of this motto, hitherto emblazoned in 87 different languages on a globe over which straddles the hammer and sickle, there is now to be an adaptation of Nelson's Trafalgar signal.

"Socialism expects that every man will do his duty" is the much less provocative message which the Soviet arms will now offer to the world in the "Daily Telegraph."

THE MILWAUKEE ROAD

RELIGION AND WEALTH Indictment Of Economic System CHANGE IS INEVITABLE

(BY "SCRUTATOR")

The world economic system under which we exist to-day amounts to nothing more or less than the recognition by society of the right of some individuals to live without working, and of the right of certain others to use unearned wealth to exploit the great majority of mankind whose only wealth is their power to work. That is the legally and socially established system under which we live. Is it Christian? Does it recognise the basic doctrine of the teaching of Jesus as being true and necessary?

In the first place, it is accepted by the Church, and the Church accepts as members within her fold many men and women who are the staunchest upholders of this system and who derive the greatest benefit from the exploitation of their fellows. We can trace the growth of the Church's reconciliation to this system away back in the Middle Ages. The Mediaeval Church at first opposed very vehemently any and every usurious practice. The practice of taking interest for a loan of money was strictly forbidden. That was the reason for the terrible persecutions of the Jews which took place in those days. They were expert usurers. The expansion of trade, however, and the need to use money to facilitate bargaining and credit eventually overbore the moral resistance of the Church. And what happened? The Church then not merely compromised with financial interests, it actually sanctified them and sanctified them, until now, one of the wealthiest institutions in the world is a Church which calls itself Christian. In Protestant circles men who make thousands by the old-time crime of forestalling, by speculating in futures, is now reckoned as good a Christian, other things being equal, as the humblest peasant who wrings the most meagre living from the soil. Is this according to Christ's teaching and spirit? Or is it just an instance of the historical policy of Christendom, for never once during its history has the Christian Church seriously opposed what the world temporarily regarded as economically inevitable. The Church has bowed before economic necessity, and not economic necessity before the Church's influence.

ATTITUDE TO USURY

Is this historical policy of the Church in accordance with a truthful expression of the teaching of Jesus? In Jesus and in his teaching we have the first and fullest expression of the religion of love—love to God as Creator Father, and love to all men as brothers under God's Fatherhood. The Christian Church was founded originally upon this teaching and endeavoured to live in harmony with it. The outstanding characteristic of the earliest formulation of the Christian Church was a pure and disinterested love for all men, but such a characteristic has never been in evidence since.

In the Middle Ages, as in its official attitude to usury, the Church endeavoured to keep up a pretence of acceptance of Christian truth, but it was only outwardly, and any moral influence which she possessed then over the rank and file of her members was due to magical and superstitious influence, including her claim to excommunicate. In the end, owing to decay in superstition outside the Church, and to the controlling belief within her membership, she was forced to compromise with the world to maintain her own existence. The collapse of the Catholic system had begun. After the Reformation we see the gradual breakdown of it, in France at the end of the 18th century, in Russia in 1917, in Spain in 1931 and '34. The secularisation of Spain marks the end of the first great effort to mould society on the inspiration of Jesus.

HYPOCRISY

With the decay of the Catholic system there arose a religious individualism, but this along with an economic individualism has made the profession of Christianity a self-evident hypocrisy. A Christianity which has its roots in the individual alone is not the Christianity of Jesus.

It is true, of course, that this type of Christianity has produced not a few very notable Saints, but its main productions have been swarms and swarms of hypocrites, generations and generations of them, in whose hypocrisy we all consciously or unconsciously share.

The logical conclusion of this type of religion is John D. Rockefeller, with his "God's Gold."

Individuals who are truly responsive to the truth of Jesus have their strongest enemy in this formulation of Christianity. There is no greater obstacle in the way of brotherly love than just the claim, that under the existing economic system, one man who is worth millions should claim that God gave him his gold. God did nothing of the kind, it was John D. Rockefeller with the expert assistance of the devil who raised the pile!

TAIL CHASERS

No matter what use great individual wealth may be put to, the possible existence of it is a denial of Christ's truth. The religion of good works is always a religion of failure, especially under a system of economic individualism. Those who follow it are like puppy-dogs who chase their own tails; they have accepted an evil and live by it, then spend their spare time in trying to remedy it, to clear up the mess which their beliefs both economic and religious, have generated. There is a terrible pathos, for example, in Elizabeth Fry labouring to reform prison into which were emptied the human wreckage of the system which her religion not only condoned but stimulated. Christianity in its Protestant and individual form, is caught in a vicious circle from which there is no escape.

INDIVIDUALISTS

What has made the new form of religious and economic individualism so hateful and disastrous, is the fact of the decrease in the size of the world, to which we referred in a previous article. Science has made the world into one family in body but not in spirit, and although the economic individualists are not a race of criminals—they are merely doing what they like with what they call their own—the actions of profit-seeking men never take into account the well-being of others especially when the others in question are thought to be far away. The inconsiderate actions of economic individualists have been the root of most of the human misery and suffering during the last century and a half. The upshot of it all has been a cleavage of society which is rapidly becoming international in character and solidarity, and a cleavage in the individual as well with self-interest on the one side, and the impulses to generosity and unselfishness prompted by religion on the other.

POSSIBILITY OF CHANGE

What then does all this mean to thinking men and women who call themselves Christian? On every hand, in every land, we see the evil state of the working-classes, which supporters of economic individualism, if they were absolutely honest, would say are inevitable. "Every man must rise on his abilities." "The poor ye have always with you." And so on! These are the general opinions of unthinking men and women a very great many of whom sit in the pews of our Churches. But this word, "inevitable" has two distinct meanings. It is one thing to see that the creation of human misery is inevitable to the working of an economic system which happens to prevail, and it is another thing to argue that the evilworking system is itself inevitable. It may have been inevitable in the development of society, but however inevitable it may have been, the fact remains that it is men who have made it so. In other words though it is inevitable that human beings should be what they are, it is not inevitable that they should remain what they are; and though it is inevitable that human society should be what it is, it is not inevitable that it should remain so. The possibility of change in human beings is self-evident, and is proved in history.

SPIRITUAL HONESTY

The situation which the Church then has to face, is first and foremost the task of her own intellectual and spiritual honesty. Are Christians to sit still in selfish indifference because as individuals they happen to be comfortably off, or to lie down under an iniquitous system because they feel that under no other conditions could they be worse off than they are?

It is at this issue that the demand for intellectual and spiritual honesty is most acute. Be Christian or perish! Believe that a change in life for the individual and for society is possible, is indeed inevitable, and labour to produce it, or forever relinquish the title, Christian.

"DOCTRINE OF ATONEMENT"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

The subject of the Lesson Sermon, in all Christian Science Churches to-morrow, October 18, will be "Doctrine of Atonement."

The Golden Text will be "Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us" (Hebrews 9: 24).

Amongst others, the following citations from the Bible will be read: "Wherefore seeing ye also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and let us run with patience the race that is before us, looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God. We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves. Let everyone of us please his neighbour for his good to edification. For even Christ pleased not himself; but, as it is written, The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me. For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope. Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to Christ Jesus: That we may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ."

(Hebrews 12: 1, 2. Romans 15: 1-6).

The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

"The atonement requires constant self-immolation on the sinners part. St. Paul wrote, 'Let us lay aside every weight, and the sin that doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us;' that is, let us put aside material self and sense, and seek the divine Principle and Science of all healing. If Truth is overcoming error in your daily walk and conversation, you can finally say, 'I have fought a good fight. I have kept the faith' because you are a better man. This is having our part in the atonement with Truth and Love. Every pang of repentance, and suffering, every effort for reform, every good thought and deed, will help us to understand Jesus' atonement for sin and aid its efficacy; but if the sinner continues to pray and repent, sin and be sorry, he has little part in the atonement, in the atonement with God, for he lacks the practical repentance, which reforms the heart and enables man to do the will of wisdom. Willingness to become as a little child and to leave the old for the new, renders thought receptive to the advanced idea. Gladness to leave the false landmarks and joy to see them disappear—this disposition helps to precipitate the ultimate harmony. The purification of sense and self is a proof of progress."

"THE AMATEUR GENTLEMAN"

"The Amateur Gentleman" in which Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., co-stars with Elissa Landi is showing to-day at the King's Theatre.

Adapted from Jeffery Farnol's best-selling novel of the same name, "The Amateur Gentleman" is, without hesitation, the best produced and most thrilling and colourful costume drama ever screened.

Doug. Fairbanks, Jr., has not allowed his career as a producer to weigh him down, and in scoring a personal triumph he reveals a virile personality strongly reminiscent of his famous father. The picture is packed with action from start to finish. One of the highlights is the realistic knuckle fight between Barnabas and the "Lincoln Butcher". The romantic scenes between Fairbanks and Elissa Landi are masterpieces of restraint. Gordon Harker's Natty Bell is a perfect gem of cockney characterisations and is, I should say, about the best performance he has ever given. Esme Percy stands out in a rather smaller part than usual as a "top". Prominent among the rest of the cast are Frank Pettigell, Basil Sydney, Aulic Stewart and Hugh Williams.

The photography is flawless and Thornton Freeland, who directed, has kept the pace going right up to the fade-out.

"SHOW BOAT"

Universal's magnificent musical production, "Show Boat" starring Irene Dunne, Allan Jones and Paul Robeson, is being screened at the Alhambra Theatre to-day only, by special request. Those who have not yet seen the film should do so.

PALESTINE RESTORED

London, Oct. 15.

For the third day in succession a communiqué issued from the High Commissioner's office in Jerusalem to-day states there have been no incidents to report since noon the previous day. It continues, "the public is informed that, owing to order having been restored and the absence of acts of violence in future the official communiqué will be issued only when the occasion demands and the daily issue of an official communiqué as a matter of routine is being discontinued." Press messages from Palestine state that a hopeful impression is gaining ground among the public that restoration of order has made possible a visit of the Royal Commission at not too distant a date.

JEAN BATTEN OFF TO NEW ZEALAND

London, Oct. 15.

A Sydney message received in London, to-night says that Miss Jean Batten who is on her homeward flight on which she has already set up a new record for a solo flight from England to Australia, took off from Richmond, New South Wales, at 4.37 a.m. local time for New Zealand.

MUSIC FOR THE CORONATION

Following Precedent

HONOUR FOR BRITISH COMPOSERS

Music plays a very important part in the Coronation Service at Westminster Abbey, and at the last two ceremonies the most eminent British composers have been invited to supplement the traditional music of the service.

This precedent is again to be followed, and already several of our leading musicians are being approached to contribute to the programme that is now being prepared by Dr. E. Bullock, the organist and choirmaster of the Abbey, who will be assisted in his task by Sir Henry Walford Davies, the Master of the King's Music, and others.

There is good reason to believe that Mr. Eric Coates is to be invited to write the solemn procession march which concludes the service as the King passes from the Abbey.

Some of the music at a Coronation is traditional, and has been played for many years past. Among these older works are Tallis's setting of the Litany and Merbeck's for the Nicene Creed. The former is now over 350 years old. The most celebrated number of all, however, is Handel's setting of the anthem, "Zadok the Priest." This was first performed at the Coronation of George II in 1727. For this occasion Handel also composed three other majestic tunes not often heard to-day, and no longer include in the Coronation Service—"Let Thy Hand be Strengthened," "The King Shall Rejoice," and "My Heart is Inditing."

Contemporary with Tallis's Litany is the Psalm, "I Was Glad," first sung at the crowning of Charles I. (1626). This has been performed at every successive Coronation, either wholly or in part. It was rearranged by the late Sir Hubert Parry for the crowning of George V., being originally written by Purcell, and is likely to be heard again next May.

Sir Hubert Parry also composed the "Te Deum" for the last Coronation, when he conducted it in person. The musical programme was arranged on that occasion by the late Sir Frederick Bridge, for many years organist and choir master at the Abbey. There was then a choir of 450 voices, that of the Abbey being strengthened by the gentlemen and boys of the Chapels Royal and specially selected singers from other London churches. This was assisted by the pick of London's orchestras to the number of seventy. These numbers are likely to be closely approximated on the next occasion.

Sir Frederick Bridge was also responsible for the composition of the Anthem sung during the Service of Homage. The soloist was the late Edward Lloyd and it is doubtful if he was ever heard to better effect, despite his age.

BRITAIN'S NEW WONDER STUDIOS

Pinewood, the new £650,000 studios just opened, are showing their challenge across the fields to Alexander Korda's Denham outfit. The challenge is loud and long. The Pinewood studios, when they get going properly, expect to employ 1,000 people a day, including an average of 150 "extras."

They add hastily that they can actually cope with 1,500 "extras." Applications for jobs at Pinewood have flooded in from all parts of the country, and are still coming in.

Pinewood claims that the accommodation provided there for stars and workers is comparable with any studio in the world. The stars are each given four room, suites, and have a country club adjoining, where they can spend their leisure time at swimming, tennis, squash, or, if they are simple-minded, just walking through the gardens.

The "extras" are provided with large airy dressing-rooms, shower-baths, and a lunch for 1s. 3d.

Pinewood takes particular pride in this canteen, which is to run a day-and-night service. Already Herbert Wilcox has got to work at Pinewood with his new Anna Neagle picture. He celebrated the first camera shot with drinks all round.

AMBASSADORS DISAPPOINTED

British Ambassadors, who, as Privy Counsellors, had hopes of attending the Coronation have been disappointed.

They have been informed that during the Coronation celebrations they must be at their posts abroad. The decision is in accordance with precedent. An Ambassador is the King's personal representative abroad. Apart from the fact that his Embassy is the national centre of the celebrations of the local British colony, it is his duty to receive in the King's name the congratulations of the head of the State of the country to which he is accredited.

EVERY PACKETLORRY DRIVER
FINED $45Sequel To Mishap
On Praya

Careless driving on the part of a lorry driver, resulting in a rickshaw coolie being injured, had its sequel before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Police Court yesterday when the driver, Tung Kwan Shui, was fined $45 or, in default, five and a half weeks' hard labour, and ordered to pay $2 compensation to the coolie.

It was revealed that Mary Joy Parson, a pupil of the Central British School, narrowly escaped injury.

An October 7, defendant was driving a lorry in Connaught Road Central, from east to west, passing the Star Ferry. A bus was stationary to allow passengers to alight. He passed the bus and in doing so knocked over a rickshaw. The coolie received slight injuries to the knee. Defendant also nearly knocked down Mary Parson, who was stepping off the traffic island.

The defendant stopped and took the coolie to hospital and then reported at the Police station.

Mr. W. Muskett, an eye-witness, said that the lorry was travelling about 20 m.p.h.

Sergt. Kelly prosecuted.

RAID ON HUT

A robbery at a hut in Blue Pool Road on Thursday night in which two men entered the hut and stole money and clothing has been reported to the police by Wu Luk, 39, married woman.

The woman was awakened by some persons breaking down the door, and she saw two men enter the hut. One of them asked for Man Po. She replied she did not know Man Po. The intruder then hit her five times on the head with a bamboo pole, and stole $9 from her.

GAMBLING

Five stallholders and five stall foks were arrested while playing "pai kau" in the Central Market, and were to appear before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy this morning, but all of them failed to do so and their bail of $3 each was exstated. The sum of $3.10 which was found on the premises was added to the Poor Box funds.

FALL ON SHIP

A woman, Yee Sai-nin, of Swatow, was admitted to the Kowloon Hospital suffering from head injuries received in an accidental fall on board the ss. Hong Peng on which she was a passenger from Swatow to Singapore. Her condition is serious.

PILLS STOLEN

For stealing a box of Yaten pills from the World Dispensary Chan Yuen was sentenced to six weeks by Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday. Defendant complained that he had dysentery, and had no money to buy the pills, so he was forced to go into the store and take the pills, from a show-case.

SUICIDE

So far, unemployed died at the Kowloon Hospital from the effects of immersion. About 2.30 p.m. on Thursday, he was a passenger on the vehicular ferry Man Kin which was on her way from Hong Kong to Kowloon. He jumped into the harbour in an attempt to commit suicide, but was rescued by Leung Ping, coxswain of a Walla Walla boat and taken to hospital.

FAILED TO REPORT
ACCIDENT

For failing to report a motorear accident when his car collided with another, Licence No. 4458, in Wing Sing Lane at 1.15 p.m. on September 15, Mr. A. M. Jack of 6 Essex Crescent was fined $8 by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday morning. Mr. Jack informed the Court that as the damage to the other car was very slight he understood there was no necessity to report the incident.

WOMAN ACCUSED OF THEFTCaught After Chase
In StreetTELLS LIES IN COURT

Chan Chuen, 19, married woman, appeared before Mr. E. Himsforth at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday morning on a larceny charge.

The complainant, Wong Tim, 42, or 103 Battery Court in giving evidence stated that the accused snared her home. A few days ago she reported to the police the loss of a canvas belt containing $7.70 in Chinese notes, two Hong Kong silver dollars and 12 Chinese copper cents, and was instructed to watch the defendant.

On Wednesday morning the other woman left the house and the complainant sent her daughter Leung Kwai to follow her. Immediately she reached the street she started running and her daughter gave chase and subsequently caught her on Jordan Road and attracted the attention of a passing policeman who arrested the woman.

After the complainant's daughter had given her evidence the accused went into the witness box and told the court that she had found and picked the money up and, realizing her error, had thrown it away when the complainant's daughter came up to her and accused her of stealing the money.

Mr. Himsforth told the defendant that the details she told the Court from the witness box were all lies and ordered her to be bound over in the sum of $20 for one year and to pay the complainant $8.50 for other articles which she claimed she had lost.

FORGED NOTES

Chan Kwong, 25, who told the court that he was a hat-maker, was charged with being in possession of forged notes on October 12 before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday morning.

Detective Inspector Elston prosecuted and informed the Magistrate that the accused was arrested on Shanghai Street and two $100 and two $10 notes were found on him.

The case was remanded to Wednesday at 2.30 p.m.

OPIUM ON PREMISES

Unable to satisfactorily explain away 1/10 pint of prepared opium found in his home at 55 Wuhu Street, Mok Fun, 45, was sentenced to two weeks' imprisonment by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday morning.

EUROPEAN FINED

M.A. Carus, owner of a private car, was fined $5 by Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday, for causing an obstruction in Ice House Street. Sergt. Fender prosecuted.

FIGHTING NOISE

Architects' New Devices

Sound insulation was a feature of the Building Exhibition at Olympia recently.

Most of the 350 exhibitors offered some device for reducing the noise in homes or factories, and the Government stand, arranged by the National Physical Laboratory, is dealing with what it describes as the "reduction of transmission of footsteps noises."

Absorbent materials, double windowns, and floating floors are some of the devices used by architects and builders in their efforts to combat noise.

The Housing Centre staged its "New Homes for Old," a graphic presentation of the urgency of the slum problem, and the Army Vocational Training Centre demonstrated its method of training short-service men for civilian after life.

Mr. H. Greville Montgomery, the veteran organiser of this old-established exhibition, provided space for displaying the architectural drawings from the recent Royal Academy Exhibition.

Earl Stanhope, First Commissioner of Works, opened the exhibition.

SORDID STORY
IN COURTTwo Women Face
Sessions Charge

Two women appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday, charged with exercising control over prostitutes. Defendants were L. Chung, 34, mistress of prostitute lodging house, at 217 Queen's Road West, and Chan Chan alias Liu Hing, 27, married woman, 182, Queen's Road West, second floor.

Inspector Ellis prosecuted, and the complainant was Tam Ting, 13, girl.

Inspector Ellis said that on October 8, the girl's mother found her missing and was told by a woman that the girl was in Hong Kong. She came here and found her daughter and reported to the police who arrested the defendants and took them to the S.C.A. office.

The first defendant stated that the girl was brought to her house by a woman, and the second defendant said that she did not know the girl.

The girl was taken to the first defendant's house, where it was suggested that she should become a prostitute. Later, the second defendant arrived and had a conversation with the first defendant. The girl was told to follow the second defendant who took her to 182, Queen's Road West, and there she met a man. The girl was paid $3, of which she gave $2 to the second defendant. The first defendant received 50 cents.

There had been no arrangement as to how the girl should pay for her board, but she was to pay half of what she earned.

The case was remanded to October 23, and the defendants were allowed $500 bail each.

Is Your
SORE?

YOUR throat is the 'danger spot' where infection germs enter your system and cause laryngitis, quinsy, influenza, colds and similar troubles. You can soon cure a sore throat and avoid complications by sucking Peps tablets every now and again. Peps are pleasant to taste, yet wonderfully pain-soothing. They give off powerful healing vapours which circulate through the breathing tubes and lungs. Peps overcome harmful germs, end anorexia and keep you free from coughs, colds and chills. They are far more soothing and much easier to swallow than gurgles.

To preserve the rich, breathable oils which Peps contain, every tablet is wrapped in silver paper. They are packed in sealed glass bottles, along with full directions printed in leading languages.

POSSESSION OF FORGED BANKNOTES

Accused Pleads For Leniency

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

"I regret that this matter has occurred. I ask the court for leniency in my case otherwise my family will be destitute." These words were uttered by Mr. Q. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday afternoon on a charge of uttering false notes. The prisoner pleaded guilty to the offence and begged the court to allow him a few minutes with his wife before they took him away. This favour was granted and the accused was ordered to stand for commitment at the next criminal session.

Expert witnesses were called to identify the banknotes, a $10 Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank note and a $5 Chartered Bank note. Replying to Mr. Macfadyen, both witnesses declared that the forgeries were bad ones where experts were concerned but that a layman might easily be deceived by them. Several other witnesses appeared against the accused and it was revealed that at 10.30 a.m. on September 27, the accused went to a shop in Boundary Street and asked to buy a small piece of wood for $1.20. He tendered a $10 note of the new issue and received $8.80 in change from the shopkeeper. The next day he went to buy rice and tendered another $10 note.

On October 3, the defendant again appeared at the first shop and asked to buy a piece of wood for thirty cents and produced a $5 note. The shopkeeper recognised the man and immediately sent his fooki to buy some cigarettes with the note. The fooki returned and told his master that the note was a forgery and the latter thereupon hailed a passing policeman who arrested the accused and brought him to the Shamshuipo Police Station.

The defendant refused to give evidence on his own behalf and told the court: "All I was after was a question of a few dollars. I bought these notes, with which I was arrested, in Canton. I paid $10 Canton currency for a $10 note and $5 Canton money for the $5 Hong Kong note. All I wanted was a few dollars for these notes. For this reason I brought them up here. Formerly I worked in a tin mine in Singapore. I came back to Hong Kong about four years ago due to the world depression. I have always been a good citizen."

FATAL ACCIDENT

A fatal accident occurred yesterday afternoon. A lorry, driven by Ip Wah, was proceeding in Kung Chau Street, when it stopped and reversed a few yards. The driver heard a shout.

The driver alighted and found that he had knocked over an earth cooler, Yung Fang, 33, who was working at the rear of the lorry. He was taken to the Tung Wah Hospital where he died shortly after admission.

ARTILLERY GUN PRACTICE

ON MAIDEN VOYAGE

Akagi Maru Arrives From North

The latest addition to the fleet of fast freighters for the Nippon Yusen Kaisha North Europe Line, which was inaugurated by the Kasai Maru last May, the N.Y.K.-owned motor ship Akagi Maru arrived in Hong Kong yesterday morning and berthed at the Kowloon Wharf. The vessel was beflagged.

The Akagi Maru was on her maiden voyage to Europe and is leaving for Hamburg, via ports, this morning.

With a speed of 19 knots, the Akagi Maru has a deadweight capacity of 9,400 tons and was built at the Nagasaki Shipyard and Engine Works. The keel was laid in December, 1935. She was launched in June last and was completed last month.

Her length is 140 metres, breadth 19 metres, depth 10.50 metres and draught of 8.35 metres. Her gross tonnage is 7,387 tons.

She has accommodation for four first class passengers and her main engine is of the Mitsubishi Double-acting, two-stroke cycle, airless-injection Diesel engine.

From 4 p.m. until 6 p.m. yesterday afternoon the vessel was thrown open for inspection and many local residents availed themselves of the opportunity. Refreshments were served.

The keel of another new vessel, the Arima Maru was laid in March this year and the vessel is expected to be completed by next month.

TAUBER IN ENGLISH

Richard Tauber will sing and talk English throughout a play for the first time next May, according to an announcement made by Mr. C. B. Cochran.

Mr. Cochran has concluded negotiations with Mr. Harold Holt, the concert impresario, by which Tauber will be presented in an operetta under these conditions at a West End theatre. The operetta will be a version of one of Tauber's Continental successes.

This Simple Treatment Quickly Heals ECZEMA AND OTHER SKIN ERUPTIONS

The amazing curative powers of the Cuticura treatment are due to a unique combination of soothing, healing and antiseptic ingredients. Nothing known to medical science will give you quicker more lasting relief than Cuticura. It stops the tormenting itch instantly; gives you days of peace and comfort and nights of restful sleep. But, best of all, Cuticura is an amazing healer which will clear up the most stubborn cases of Eczema, Psoriasis and other tormenting, disfiguring skin eruptions.

How Cuticura Heals ECZEMA (DRY OR WEeping)
PSORIASIS
PRICKLY HEAT
PIMPLES, BOILS
ABSCESSSES
LEG ULCERS

Wash the affected part night and morning with Cuticura Soap and hot water to cleanse away poisonous matter and irritating secretions. Dry gently and apply Cuticura Ointment. This daily treatment relieves itching and allays inflammation at once. The soothing, healing, antiseptic Cuticura penetrates to the depths of the eruption. It destroys the lurking germs which keep the disease active; it heals the festering sores and steadily establishes a healthy condition of the skin which leads to complete recovery. The efficacy of this treatment will prove a revelation to sufferers who have been brought to the verge of despair.

Commenting on the defeat, Mr. H.R.B. Hancock, President of the H.K.C.C., who travelled with the team, said that it was "all in the game." The wicket was "plumb but cracked up badly on the fourth day.

LEE BOWLED WELL

The Hong Kong fielding he said was very good throughout. The large ground made a considerable difference to the new players in the team, who had been accustomed to the smaller grounds in Hong Kong.

Pearce, A. R. Minu and R. Lee, bowled magnificently. Lee was the steadiest of the bowlers.

Mr. Hancock remarks that E. F. Fincher played a brilliant innings at a critical stage of the game, and batted without the semblance of a chance. Pearce too batted well in the second innings, but A. H. Madar was a disappointment to him. In the second innings, Madar was bowled by a ball round his legs, which he made no attempt to play.

PARKER LUCKY

H. V. Parker's undefeated century innings for Shanghai was very lucky, as Parker was no batsman, and he was missed several times. Pat Madar was beaten many times, but Barson, batted steadily. Leckie's innings was very polished.

The team had a good trip up to Shanghai, although K. Nazarin and Minu were seasick.

NEW GOVERNOR OF MEMEL

A PLACE OF FAME

Whose will be the twentieth name to complete the garland of celebrity that borders the roof of the Reading Room of the British Museum? Shortly this famous room, where some of the world's most notable thinkers have worked, will, in its present form, attain its fiftieth anniversary, and the public is beginning to inquire whether, on this occasion, the empty space beside its nineteen names of literary distinction will be filled. If so, what name will be put up? A modern, like Hardy or Shaw? Or one of the great omitted, of whom Keats and Shelley have been suggested?

The names already in position are Chaucer, Caxton, Tindale, Spenser, Shakespeare, Bacon, Milton, Locke, Addison, Swift, Pope, Gibbon, Wordsworth, Scott, Byron, Carlyle, Macaulay, Tennyson, and Browning.

If Wordsworth be included, it will be seen that the nineteenth century already boasts seven representatives, and a further addition from the same age would throw the list out of balance, unless some very good reason be found.

To get at a suitable suggestion, it would doubtless be best to discover what is fundamental underlying the selection already made. It is not purely literary eminence, or Caxton and Locke, the philosopher, would not be included. The choice of these names would suggest that attention has been paid to pioneers of literary work, for both these men opened up great vistas of knowledge hitherto untraveled. Yet few of the other writers chosen display the same quality.

In fact, it is difficult to find any basic criterion of judgment in the list. One fact, however, cries out at every reader. No woman is included. Why not repair this omission now? Jane Austen would not be out of place in company even more distinguished than this. And the disadvantage of her belonging to the nineteenth century would be easily outweighed by the fact that her inclusion would help to redress an old injustice.

"UNA NOCHE TOLEDANA"

Some idea of the proximity of the insurgent forces to Madrid is afforded by the fact that in normal circumstances Toledo is little more than an hour's drive from the capital.

The connecting road a month or two ago was regarded as one of the fastest for motoring in the country. It runs across a high plateau through rather uninteresting agricultural country.

Although Toledo's altitude is high, it does not stand much above the surrounding plateau.

One effect of the insurgents' extraordinary stand in the Alcazar—which an Arabian geographer described as "fortified and impregnable" 800 years ago—will be to give additional emphasis to the Spanish phrase "una noche Toledana."

This means a night passed in pain or sleeplessness. It dates from the ghastly slaughter of the year 807.

A Moorish prince who was temporarily in possession of Toledo invited the chiefs of a rival army to a friendly feast in the castle. As each guest entered, his head was cut off by an executioner standing concealed inside the door. "Daily Telegraph."

NEW CAPITAL OF KWANGSI

People Flocking To Kweilin

Nanning, Oct. 16.

It is reported that the Kwangsi Provincial Government authorities have decided to establish an office in Nanking to deal with matters concerning the Pacification Commission, as it will be much more convenient to have a permanent representative in the capital.

Accordingly, Tsu Man-ming has been designated for the post, and will leave for Nanking immediately.

Owing to the scenery of Kweilin being famed as the most beautiful throughout China, and its fame also having reached foreign countries, the recent removal of the Kwangsi provincial capital to Kweilin has greatly increased the future prospects and importance of this city.

The population is daily on the increase, and wealthy merchants and citizens are flocking to the new capital to start business and purchase land for the purpose of building up-to-date residences, etc.

The Kwangsi Government has also decided to erect new Government offices, and also headquarters for the Pacification Commission with least possible delay.

Suitable sites are being selected for the erection of magnificent edifices, and the Public Works Department is busy preparing the necessary plans.

"BLACK BEAN" FESTIVAL

It is reported that in memory of the 19th year of the Republic, when the beleaguered troops of Nanning were forced to subsist on black beans, the Kwangsi Army authorities have decided to fix October 12 as the "Black Bean" Festival in yearly commemoration of this event.

Accordingly, the event was celebrated by the high civil and military officials on the 12th instant, and a special telegram was sent to the Commander of the 41st Division, the heroes of the event, at present stationed at Ly Fo.

On the 12th instant Generals Pei Chung-hsi and Hsia Wei left Nanning for Kweilin by aeroplane, and were welcomed by the civil and military officials on landing. "Chinese Evening Press."

PARIS LIGHTERMEN ON STRIKE

Paris, Oct. 15.

The important part played by the inland waterways in providing Paris with various goods, is now demonstrated in an unfortunate way, by the continued strike of the lightermen, these goods having to be transported by rail to much more expensive rates. The well-known Renault motor-cars, which had hitherto had all supplies of heavy oil supplied by the water way, now has to have them sent by rail, and has been forced to raise the prices in consequence. AFRICA EXPERT AS AMBASSADOR

M. de St. Quentin, France's new Ambassador to Italy, may find his knowledge of African affairs of value to Signor Mussolini.

With Mr. Maurice Peterson, then head of the Abyssinian Department of the British Foreign Office, he drew up the famous Paris peace plan. This was to end the Italo-Abyssinian war. It resulted, instead, in Sir Samuel Hoare's resignation from the Foreign Office.

M. de St. Quentin has long been regarded as the coming man in French diplomacy. He served in Egypt at one time and was, for a period, Secretary-General in Morocco.

Mr. Peterson is now British Minister to Bulgaria. He stands a good chance of being the next High Commissioner—or rather British Ambassador—to Egypt.

JAPANESE GREATLY INTERESTED

Shanghai, Oct. 16.

The attention of political circles is centered on Hangchow where General Han Fu-chu, Governor of Shantung, one of the five provinces involved in Japan's North China autonomy scheme, arrived by train this morning from Tsinan to confer with the Generalissimo.

The visit confirms the impression that General Han Fu-chu is prepared to follow a policy acceptable to the Central Government despite the recent attempts to extend the present "special" regime in the Hopei-Chahar provinces to Shantung.

Japanese quarters attach very great importance to the visit as they believe it is bound to produce repercussions in North China.

REPULSE BAY MATSHEDS

Police Praise For Hotel Staff

PROMPT ACTION DURING FIRE

The General Manager of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Hotels

has received a letter from the Hon. Inspector General of Police regarding the fire which broke out among the Repulse Bay matsheds on the night of October 3—4.

"The Fire Brigade Officer in charge of the fire reports that upon his arrival on the scene the fire was all but completely extinguished due to the energetic action taken by the Repulse Bay Hotel Manager, Mr. Semmler and his staff. Mr. Semmler had used 14 lengths of hose (1400 ft.) from the R.B.H. private hose, this action having definitely saved the other matsheds by preventing the fire to spread."

The Hon. Inspector General of Police adds: "I take this opportunity of conveying my congratulations and thanks to Mr. Semmler and his staff for their successful efforts in reducing the extent of the fire."

It was thought that it might be good for the various matshed owners to know that it was the staff of the Repulse Bay Hotel who saved their sheds.

BRITAIN'S DEFENCE PROBLEMS

Importance Of Getting First Ascendancy In War

BY LIEUT.-COL. J. T. C. MOORE-BRABAZON, M.C., M.P.

It is acknowledged by all that our defences are weak. Having let things slide for so many years it is difficult to pick up, especially when picking up means not restoration to normal, but a recovery to a state of affairs which is abnormal in view of the fact that foreign countries are indulging in that most distressing of all troubles, competitive armament.

Let me explain any general remarks I may make by saying that, anything that may lead to an understanding which would diminish wasteful expenditure of armaments of any sort is the first duty of a politician. But that is a separate point, and sometimes when we are discussing details of the actual Services in Parliament we never get down to details because we discuss foreign policy. Policy, of course, must dominate actual Service requirements, but the subject can be divided into two. It is on the purely technical state of modern war that I think a few remarks might be of interest.

MENACE OF LONG-RANGE AIRCRAFT

At present, as things exist today, a long-range bombing aircraft has the following performance: It has a range of 2,400 miles at a speed of 270 miles per hour and can carry a ton of bombs. It does not require much imagination to see what devastating trouble a few such aircraft let loose around the shores of England in time of war could bring about; and it is difficult to see the immediate answer. It can scarcely be the role of sea-ships to take on such a menace; yet it is difficult to see how the other Services can deal with such an elusive enemy. That is one of the problems which face us to-day and should be considered by everybody who glibly talks about this country taking on any first-class Power well equipped in the air.

That, perhaps, is one of the minor points, although a serious one, in any developments of national trouble; but there is one point which I think is pre-eminent and which should be appreciated by everybody. I think it is clear to us that the ultimate winning of any war will be done in the future, as in the past, by the soldier on the ground.

A NEW FACTOR TO BE FACED

But there is a new factor to be recognized by all, which is that unless you win in the air first both the other Services become inoperative and ineffective. That is the point which must be hammered into the public. The first clash in a new war is the clash of air power. Put yourself in the shoes of the enemy. What would you deal with first in this country? Not the great centres of population; not even the military establishments. The only thing, frankly, I should start on if I were the enemy commander is the potential manufacturing resources of aircraft.

There are factories in England which, after being destroyed on the first day of war from the air, would render it practically impossible for us to build any more aircraft for at least a year; and this is a very disturbing thought, because, mark, the struggle with not against being seriously crippled.

THE CONQUEST OF PRETENCE

Medicine's Next Advance

The day, when irritability, despondency and nervousness will be regarded with as much repulsion as an unwashed skin, because they will be recognised, as preventable ills, is foreseen by Dr. Macpherson Lawrie, physician in psychological medicine to Queen Mary Hospital, London. His views are expressed in "Nature Hits Back" (Methuen, 5s.).

"The conquest of pretence," he states, "will be the supreme achievement of the century, and it will be accomplished, mainly through a knowledge of correct nutrition and of glandular propensities."

"Glandular enlargement has already explained the changing moods of women, and very shortly it will render pose ridiculous and useless. To-day, we are rapidly being stripped of our excuses. Tomorrow, disordered function will be readable."

"Exposure is coming; and as it comes, the tense atmosphere and the petty frictions of domestic life, which lead to disaster, will seek their origin more commonly in the kitchen and in the medicine bottles which adorn the bathroom than in the psychological explanations of the consulting room."

MORTALITY CAUSES

And here, by contrast, is Dr. Macpherson Lawrie's picture of an average sample of 19 other people on a London motor-bus.

"On an average," he states, "five of these people eventually are going to die from arterial or heart disease; three from respiratory disease; more than two from cancer; one from violence, and the rest from less prevalent disorders. On the average every person in that bus is going to contract an illness every second year which will temporarily interfere with work or enjoyment."

BODY FOR RESEARCH

Woman Who Never Lost Her Youth

The body of Anja Tschernomirsk, who was known to the medical world as "the woman who never lost her youth," has been exhumed at Uralak, Siberia.

Although it was reported that she died several years ago at the age of 60, the members of the Moscow Institute of Medicine, who carried out the exhumation, were surprised that none of her beauty had yet deserted her—she still retained the healthy appearance of an 18-year-old girl.

The remains are now to be subjected to a searching autopsy.

At the age of 50 this remarkable woman met and married, as her second husband, a Russian business man 28 years younger than herself. He thought she was in her teens.

Scientists consider that the abnormal development of certain glands was responsible for the unchanging "youth" of Anja.

very high wastage between air forces must end in the supremacy of that country that can build and produce a superiority of aircraft in numbers and type compared with the enemy, and whoever at first gets an ascendancy gets a progressive ascendancy and can then at leisure deal with enemy aircraft-producing factories, until they are eliminated, when they stand supreme for other forces to operate. When they operate they will then be protected adequately from the air and every movement of the army and navy of the enemy harassed day and night by bombing.

AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION

Imagine, on the other hand, losing supremacy in the air. How could you embark troops, or protect commerce, or get any of the great organizations required for war moving if you are to be harassed day and night without protection, by enemy aircraft? The result is unthinkable. Therefore it is the first clash to-day, which really ultimately decides the future.

That is why in the industrial organizations of a country like ours aircraft production must not be concentrated in great centres. Production should be spread over the whole of industry and assembled wherever it is at the time healthy, so to do, otherwise one real attack from the enemy and a great link in the chain of production snaps, and the chain is useless. "Naval and Military Record."

BELGIUM EXPLAINS TO BRITAIN

KING'S DECLARATION MISAPPREHENSIONS

League Obligations To Be Observed

London, October 16.
The terms of King Leopold's speech to the Council of Ministers was officially drawn to the notice of the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden last evening when the Belgian Ambassador, Baron de Cartier de Marchienne called at the Foreign Office to give explanations authorised by his Government. In the speech it was declared that Belgium must follow a policy exclusive Belgian, and the monarch proceeded: "We must aim resolutely at placing ourselves outside the conflicts of our neighbours. Those who doubt the possibilities of such a policy should consider the examples of Holland and Switzerland."

It is understood that the Ambassador assured Mr. Eden that many of the interpretations placed on the speech abroad were based on misapprehensions and, in particular, that Belgium had no intention of repudiating her obligations and particularly those arising out of the League Covenant.

BRITISH PRESS COMMENT

The newspapers here examine the speech calmly and sympathetically, and the declarations are considered in relation to the Belgian undertakings not only under the League but also under the Franco-Belgian defence and military agreement of 1920 and under the Locarno and its subsequent agreements, including the temporary one reached after Germany broke the treaty in March. This last agreement bound the participants to observe their Locarno obligations and to engage in staff talks—an arrangement that was to last until the conclusion of new security pacts in the West or until the failure of effort of conciliation brought several letters of assurance to France and Belgium into force.

IRREGULAR PROCEDURE

The "Times" which draws attention to the somewhat irregular procedure in making a declaration in view of the fact that there was agreement between the Western Locarno signatories to abstain from unilateral pronouncements of such wide import during the present discussions, says it is plain that the revised conception of Belgium's future policy must be a matter of concern to Great Britain. Its bearing upon the negotiations for a new Locarno will be carefully and sympathetically considered. It will certainly not influence public opinion in this country to believe that there should be any slackening of the endeavour to bring about a fresh European understanding.

The "Daily Telegraph" says that "whatever her desires may be Belgium can never rest her security wholly upon her own strength. Although the European guarantee of Belgian independence has never been abrogated, it has in fact been replaced by the more precise undertakings of Locarno and the League. The speech requires more elucidation."

"We do not read it as conveying any intention to dispense with the pledges of security sought, and given either recently or in the past. Her friends will have no cause for reproach if the purpose of the King is simply to rally all parties in Belgium to the need for a greater sacrifice, to avert the possibility of encroachment upon her integrity."

MILITARY BALANCE

The "Morning Post" says that most people will agree that in the new situation Belgium has consulted her own best interests by taking this line for she is a small power who has no direct concern in the rivalries and antipathies of the great. Her abstention leaves the military balance between France and Germany for all practical purposes where it was before. From the point of view of France in particular, Belgium is no less a useful guardian of her flank as neutral than assisting her as an ally, provided always that Belgium is strong enough to preserve her neutrality.

ONLY HOPE

The "News Chronicle" questions the practicability of a policy which envisages Belgium as entirely neutral and does not regard her as more parallel with Holland and Switzerland as convincing that "Belgium's neutrality did not keep the German armies out of Belgium in 1914. Nor could any army that Belgium can possibly raise suffice to prevent future invasion."

"The only hope of real peace for a country like Belgium above all others lies in the firm establishment of a system of collective security."

The "Manchester Guardian" says that the proposed Belgian neutrality would not necessarily prevent a new Western Pact for the other four powers might agree to guarantee her neutrality without asking for reciprocal guarantees as was the case before 1914.

It would, however, prevent the suggested pact between France, Britain and Belgium from coming into force if negotiations fail.—British Wireless.

FRENCH ENQUIRY

Paris, Oct. 15.
It is understood that a French note is to be presented to the Belgian Government will ask for the Brussels conception of neutrality and will put other pointed questions to King Leopold's Ministers regarding Belgium's obligations in other matters.

France is anxious to discover what repercussions the new Belgian policy of neutrality will have on the accord between the French and Belgian General Staffs, and the French Government will question Belgium on her attitude towards the League of Nations Covenant.—Reuter.

BELGIAN INTENTIONS

Brussels, Oct. 15.
There is a total absence of official comment on the speech delivered yesterday by King Leopold, in which he declared that Belgium would in future maintain a strictly neutral policy in matters of defence.

Well-informed quarters point out there is no question of Belgium not recognising her international engagements. Consequently she does not envisage withdrawing from the League.

The problem facing the Government is to determine to what extent Belgium, by signing any new Western European security pact, will go beyond engagements already made with the League.

Diplomatic circles hold that if Belgium does not enter a new western pact she will still be bound by obligations to the League and consequently is not thinking of repudiating the principle of collective security.—Reuter.

FACTS UPSET

Paris, Oct. 15.
Authoritative circles in France believe that King Leopold's Belgian neutrality statement has thrown the whole of the post-war European system into the melting pot and broken the network of pacts the nations have concluded in search of security.

While official circles decline to comment, it is generally felt that the speech of the Belgian King yesterday amounted to a breaking of Belgium's alliance with France, denunciation of the Locarno Pact and withdrawal from the League of Nations without notice.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

ASSURANCE TO BRITAIN

London, Oct. 16.
The Belgian Ambassador called at the Foreign Office yesterday to explain to Mr. Anthony Eden, the Foreign Secretary, that there was no question of Belgium repudiating her obligations. He said Belgium remains loyal to the League of Nations.

It is believed the new Belgian neutrality policy, outlined by the King yesterday, relates principally to the coming Locarno negotiations, in which Belgium wishes to

GERMAN VISIT TO ITALY

Air Officers On Inspection

(“Hong Kong Daily Press” Special)

Rome, October 16.
A very cordial reception was accorded here to State Secretary General Milch of the German Ministry of Aviation who with several of the Air Force officers arrived on Thursday to stay in the Italian capital for several days as guests of the Italian State Secretary General Valle.

Both at the aerodrome where Milch and his party landed and at the tomb of the Italian Unknown Soldier, several hundred Air Force officers besides the guard of honour were present and emphasised by their presence the significance of the occasion.

After inspection of the Italian Air Ministry on Thursday afternoon, Valle gave a smoking concert in the evening in honour of the guests, a large number of the Italian army and airman being present.

The programme of inspection of a series of Italian aerodromes in and near Rome began on Friday morning. Valle, General Porro, Commander-in-Chief of the air defences of Rome, accompanying the guests.

The Italian press published a great number of pictures showing Milch on arrival at the aerodrome and at the other events of the day.—Transocean News Service.

NO SUPPORT FROM BRITAIN

Belgian Neutrality Decision

London, Oct. 15.
A statement issued here from official sources declares that the conjecture expressed in Paris that the Belgian declaration of neutrality was issued with support or at least silent approval of England, is completely false.

England, so the statement declares, was prepared for a development of this nature, but contrary to supporting such a measure, England even tried to dissuade Belgium from such a course.

The opinion expressed in the London press is that the Belgian action cast a bomb into international politics and upset the well laid plans of the diplomats. The question is brought up what effect the declaration of absolute neutrality will have on the old Locarno Pact, since England maintains that the agreement between England, France and Belgium is still in force.

It is obvious, however, that the British public opinion is not sharing the French dissatisfaction over the Belgian action, which is in fact even welcomed by the groups who advocate a policy of isolation in England.

From the military point of view, the Belgian step is a blow to English and French security, since British and French planes can no longer cross Belgium, nor can Belgian landing or listening posts be used. It is stated that considerable conferring will have to take place between the three countries, since England especially must know Belgium's attitude, before the next pact negotiations can be carried out.—Transocean News Service.

be a guaranteed party but not a guarantor.
If this policy is successful then it may open the way for Belgium to modify her 1920 defensive agreement with France by negotiation, but it is understood that in any event there will be no repudiation on Belgium's part.—Reuter.

ROME AGREES

Rome, Oct. 16.
King Leopold's announcement was favourably received here. Well-informed circles feel Belgium's new attitude reveals her desire to follow a more realistic foreign policy, thus approaching more closely to the political line followed by Signor Benito Mussolini.—Reuter.

TO CONSULT BRITAIN

Paris, Oct. 16.
It is understood the French Government will consult Great Britain with regard to the course to be taken as a result of the Belgian declaration of neutrality. It is believed conversations will also be begun with the Belgian Government with regard to its attitude to a new Western European pact.—Reuter.

FORTY-HOUR WEEK

French Employers Grow Stubborn

(“Hong Kong Daily Press” Special)

Paris, Oct. 16.
Resistance to the adoption of practice of a forty-hour working week is established by the law and grows more stubborn every day, employers taking the advantage of the difficulties which are arising from the devaluation of the French franc to claim lengthy postponement of the date for beginning the new system.

The Federation of French workers industries have just petitioned the Government to delay introduction of the forty-hour working week until the matter is regulated internationally, otherwise it is asserted that the French woollen textile industry would be unable to compete on the world market.—Transocean News Service.

NON-INTERVENTION COMMITTEE

Soviet Efforts To Secure Action

London, Oct. 15.
The Soviet Government is still making unremitting efforts in London to get some action undertaken in favour of the Madrid Government. On Thursday the Soviet Ambassador Malinsky accompanied by the Charge d'Affaires Kogan, again visited Lord Plymouth, the President of the non-intervention committee. The Soviet Ambassador, it is stated, repeated his demand for a convocation of the Committee in order to examine the last Soviet note. Meanwhile Portugal's answer to the reference in the Soviet note that armistice is being supplied through her ports to supply the nationalists, has been received by the Foreign Office. The Portuguese Government repudiates these charges and accepts the Soviet proposal that the Committee examine the situation on the Hispano-Portuguese frontier, under the condition that a similar examination be carried out in the harbours in the hands of the Spanish Government.—Transocean News Service.

PORTUGAL'S REPLY

London, Oct. 15.
The Portuguese reply to the Soviet accusations that principal supply of arms for the Spanish insurgents were going through Portuguese ports, has been communicated to Lord Plymouth.

It is understood that while denying the Russian allegations, Portugal accepts in principle that a Commission of Inquiry be sent to her soil, provided similar commissions are set up in Spanish ports to guard against infringement of the neutrality pact there.

Lord Plymouth is understood to have informed M. Malinsky, the Russian Ambassador, that the Moscow suggestion that the British and French fleets should watch the Portuguese coast is not a proper matter for discussion. He therefore did not propose to call a meeting of the Non-Intervention Committee.

M. Malinsky paid a further visit to the Foreign Office to-day, and it is believed he again urged the necessity of an early meeting of the Committee.—Reuter.

INCREASED COPPER PRODUCTION

London, Oct. 13.
A further increase of five per cent. in copper production has not surprised the metal markets, and experts hold that if the demand continues at the present rate, and there is no reason why it should not, "the increased output should be easily lapped up."

The biggest buying orders in the market to-day were on account of consumers, who are faced with the largest demand for copper for armaments purposes. The market feeling inclines unanimously to the view that higher prices are inevitable in the near future, and that the commodity is still very cheap at the present prices.

Sentiment was further bolstered up by the knowledge that stocks continue to decline, despite the increases in production. A moderately large bull account exists, which may make for occasional fluctuations but this will likely be outweighed by the persistent excellence of the consumers' demand.—Reuter.

HINDU-MOSLEM CONFLICT

Fighting Resumed At Dawn

Bombay, Oct. 16.
After a few hours' lull in the rioting between Hindus and Moslems, fighting began again at dawn.

The police were obliged to fire five rounds, but the casualties to-day so far are not known. One hospital up to the present has received fifty cases of stabbing.

A curfew order has been promulgated between the hours eleven at night and six in the morning.

Five hundred district police have been drafted to assist the city police in keeping order.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

FRENCH POLICY IN SPAIN

Neutrality Question Again Raised

(“Hong Kong Daily Press” Special)

Paris, October 15.
Foreign Minister Delbos will appear on October 21 before the Chamber Committee for Foreign Affairs, which has interested itself in the activities of the Non-Intervention Committee in London. At the Chamber Committee's meeting on Thursday, the Communist Deputy Bonie again suggested that Foreign Minister Delbos once more go into the question of French neutrality in Spain, but the Radical Socialist Deputy Begery and the other members strongly opposed the suggestion, pointing out the grave dangers incurred for European peace in case of abandonment of neutrality by France. The motion was accordingly rejected.

On the other hand the Commission expressed the wish to obtain from the Foreign Minister information concerning the effect which the Belgian policy of neutrality in European politics may have on French security.—Transocean News Service.

SOVIET AID FOR SPAIN

Stalin's Message

Moscow, Oct. 16.

"The toilers of the Soviet Union are only fulfilling their duty by rendering every assistance in their power to the revolutionary masses in Spain," says M. Stalin, Russia's chief executive, in a message to the Central Committee of the Spanish Communist Party.

He adds: "They realise that the liberation of Spain from the oppression of Fascist reactionaries is not a private affair of Spaniards, but the common cause of all advanced and progressive mankind."—Reuter.

WORKERS' DEMAND

Moscow, Oct. 15.
The demand that military assistance should be furnished the Spanish Government if the Soviet's diplomats do not succeed in bringing about an effective neutrality agreement, was voiced at a mass meeting of workers here to-day.

The demand is significant, as it indicates the probable course of Soviet opinion if the Ambassador's representations to the London Non-Intervention Committee are not received sympathetically.—Reuter.

VIOLATIONS OF FRONTIER

Portuguese Representations To Spain

Lisbon, Oct. 15.
The Portuguese Foreign Ministry reveals in the press the correspondence with Madrid and Burgos regarding violations of the Portuguese frontier by Red Militia men. The first complaint received an unsatisfactory reply, and was repeated later together with a complaint about the attack on the Portuguese Embassy in Madrid. As no action followed, the complaint was referred to the Nationalists, who were in charge of the frontier zone. From Burgos it was answered with the expression of regret in the name of the Spanish nation and the assertion made that everything would be done to provide funds through the Junta for the victims.—Transocean News Service.

BAFFLING MURDER MYSTERY

Body Of Foreigner In Small House

Victim Of Brutal Attack

Shanghai, October 16.
A baffling murder mystery confronts the Settlement Police following the discovery of the body of a foreigner in a small house in Hart Road this morning, apparently the victim of a brutal attack.

The man has been tentatively identified as D. E. Abraham, aged fifty, a British subject of Jewish extraction, who was found by a coolie who saw the front door open and looked in. The coolie informed the police.

The body was slashed about the face and arms, the skull being crushed in. A meat chopper and hammer were found close to the spot where the body lay.—Reuter.

FLYING BOAT SQUADRON

Flight To Singapore Commenced

London, Oct. 16.
A squadron of five Short Singapore flying boats to increase the establishment of the Royal Air Force in the Far East command, under Wing Commander W. H. Dunn, left for Bordeaux this morning. They are expected to reach Singapore early in November, travelling by easy stages.

The new squadron has been temporarily serving in the Middle East for the past year. They are flying to Singapore via Bordeaux, Marseilles, Malta, Aboukir, Lake Habanyah, Basra, Rasool Khaimah, Karachi, Allahabad, Calcutta and Mergul, a total of 8,000 miles.—Reuter.

REBEL ADVANCE ON MADRID

London, Oct. 15.
Having launched a big attack against Madrid along a 30-mile front, the insurgents under General Francisco Franco, have already gained important ground in the past 24 hours of fighting, according to a broadcast from the rebel headquarters in Seville.

It is claimed the insurgent troops have advanced from San Martin, occupying Chapineria, only 25 miles from Madrid, on the direct road to the capital.

It is also claimed that Colonel Yague's column has advanced several more miles, while Colonel Castellan's force has occupied Navas del Ray.

A violent battle is now proceeding between Colonel Degados' men and a Government force.—Reuter.

FURTHER GAIN

Burgos, Oct. 15.
The Nationalist troops have now reached a point 35 kilometres from Madrid, after having occupied Aldea del Fresno after a battle during which the Government militia lost 150 men and a large quantity of war materials.

This victory is of special importance, since it gives the Nationalist troops command of the highway leading to Navalcarnero, which is the last fortification to the west of Madrid.—Transocean News Service.

PRIMO DE RIVERA'S RELEASE

Paris, Oct. 15.
Embassies of the Fascists arrived here to negotiate for the release of Primo de Rivera, who has been held prisoner for some time in Alicante, in exchange for Premier Largo Caballero, who is in the hands of the Nationalists.—Transocean News Service.

OVIEDO SITUATION REPORTS

London, Oct. 16.
The exact situation in Oviedo is impossible to ascertain. The insurgents claim that the relief column formed contact with the rebel defenders of the town and is now pushing back the Government attackers.

A message from Madrid, however, claims that the Asturian miners have driven the insurgents from the last stronghold of the city.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

CONFIDENT JEAN BATTEN

Tasman Sea Safely Crossed

Auckland, Oct. 15.
Jean Batten arrived here safely at 5.05 p.m. (local time) after crossing the long stretch of 1,000 miles over the Tasman Sea. She was greeted by a huge and excited crowd and by the manager of the aerodrome.

It is reported from Sydney that prior to her departure for Auckland, Miss Batten declared: "If I go down in the sea nobody must fly out in search of me. I have chosen to undertake a flight and am confident that I can make it, but I do not wish to imperil the lives of others or cause trouble and expense."—Reuter.

CHINA NATIONAL CONGRESS

Shanghai, Oct. 16.
The decision to postpone indefinitely the National People's congress announced in Nanking last evening passes without comment by most of the newspapers, but the "China Times" believes that the decision is justified by the present national crisis.

The journal observes that the failure to elect delegates in certain provinces (which is the ostensible reason for postponement) will always prove a stumbling block. Nevertheless it urges the people to loyally support the Kuomintang decision since "this is not the time to launch a dispute as to whether the period of political tutelage should now give place to a constitutional regime."—Reuter.

BANK OF FRANCE MEETING

Strong Objection To M. Jouhaux

(“Hong Kong Daily Press” Special)

Paris, Oct. 16.
The first meeting of the general assembly of the Bank of France under the new status proved very stormy. Of the total number of 40,000 shareholders only about 1,000 were represented at the meeting and strongly protested against the inclusion on the board of directors of the well-known revolutionary and Secretary General of the Confederation of Labour, Jouhaux. In order to give effect to their protest, the shareholders re-elected three "censors" belonging to the old board and elected two directors known to be opponents of the Popular Front.—Transocean News Service.

ROYAL PALESTINE COMMISSION

London, Oct. 15.
The way has been cleared for the early departure of the Palestine Inquiry Commission by an official announcement that no incidents have occurred in the past twenty-four hours, and the issuing of daily communiques is being discontinued.

Now that the Government's preliminary condition, namely the restoration of order, is satisfied, preparations are being made for the departure of the Commission, which will probably leave at the beginning of November.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

CRICKET TOUR BEGINS

M. C. C. Meet West Australia

Perth, Oct. 16.
The M.C.C. Australian cricket tour team engaged in their first match to-day when they met West Australia. A small crowd of spectators attended and the weather was showery. The wicket was on the slow side.

West Australia won the toss and took first lease of the wicket. After half-an-hour's play two wickets fell for 28 runs. At lunch the score was 61 for four wickets and the team was eventually dismissed for 142.

At the close of play the Marylebone had scored 91 for the loss of one wicket.

Perth, Oct. 16.
Supporters of West Australia were overawed with the biggest partnership for the eighth wicket between Wilberforce, who scored 33 not out, and Newman 28. They added 44 for the eighth wicket.

G. O. Allen, the M.C.C. captain, kept a good pace and worried the batsmen with his in-swingers. He took three wickets for 32 runs while Kenneth Farnes also captured three wickets for 35.

R. E. S. Wyatt and Barnett opened the M.C.C. innings. Wyatt batting very cautiously, had 14 to his credit at the close of play with his wicket still intact. Barnett batted crisply and with confidence.

RADIO HOCKEY WIN

The Radio Sports Club defeated the Indian Police by two goals to nil in a friendly hockey match played at Caroline Hill yesterday afternoon. Tirlok Singh and S. Chowdhury scored the goals. Outstanding players for the winners were Chowdhury and M. H. Hassan (centre-half) while Boota Singh played well for the Police. The game was umpired by Serwan Singh.

ARCHBISHOP'S OLYMPIC PLEA

Writing in the British Ski Year Book, Mr. Arnold Lunn makes an interesting disclosure. The Archbishop of York, he reveals, intervened in the agitation which was being carried on to boycott this year's Olympic Games.

Mr. Lunn states that the Archbishop submitted to the Olympic Committee a suggested appeal to Herr Hitler and invited the committee to associate itself officially with this step. The committee declined to do so.

"I am told," writes Mr. Lunn, "that the appeal was sent privately to a leading official in the German sport world, but that it never reached Herr Hitler."

Although the appeal proved unsuccessful, its text, quoted in full by Mr. Lunn is of interest.

and scored 54 in 65 minutes, hitting a six and eight boundaries.

Tuafu, trying to stop a hard cut from Barnett, broke the top of his finger and had to have it amputated.

Reuter's Bulletin Service adds that Walter Hammond at close of play had 18 not out to his credit. The match is a three day fixture.

LAI WAH CUP

Civilian Team Selected.

The Civilians Lai Wah Cup team was chosen yesterday. It will play the Navy on the Kowloon Football Club ground on Sunday week, while Chinese and Army are battling elsewhere.

The team is as follows:—Rodger (Club); Blackburn (Police) and A. V. Gosano (Recreio); Elias (Kowloon); Belimo (Recreio) and Parker (Police); Fowler (Club); Fleming (Club); D. Knox (Kowloon); Wilson (Club) and Blackford (Club). A good team, strong in all departments, which should be able to hold its own comfortably against the Navy.

LOCAL POLO

K.O.Y.L.I. First Round Matches

Two splendid polo matches were witnessed on the Hong Kong Polo Club ground yesterday afternoon when the first round of the K.O.Y.L.I. Polo Tournament was decided.

The Civilians defeated the Royal Artillery by four goals to three while the Royal Welch Fusiliers accounted for the Royal Ulster Rifles by the odd goal in three after a most exciting encounter. The issue was in doubt until the closing minutes of the game.

The Final will be played on Thursday next.

HELPING POOR OF COLONY

St. Vincent De Paul Society Report

The annual report of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul dis-closes that $7,816.65 was expended in relief in money and provisions.
The 53rd annual "Al Fresco Fete" will be held on November

The report states—
In presenting this Report and Statement of Accounts, the Council earnestly desires to thank the generous Public of Hong Kong for their continued support of the charitable work of the Society
among the Poor of this Colony, irrespective of race, nationality or creed.

The net proceeds of the "Al
Fresco Fete" and the "Our Poor Day" sale of Roses showed an increase of $309.09 on the figures of the previous year's efforts and in view of the serious business depression, which tightened the purse strings of even the most liberal, and the ever increasing number of appeals to charity the Council feels that it has every reason to be grateful for the support received and again accepts it as a further indication of the confidence bestowed upon the Society by the Public in entrusting it with their aims for distribution to the Poor of this Colony. This continued support has been very cordially appreciated by the Council and by all who worked so hard and so devotedly for the success of the "Fete".

Thanks to the increased receipts
obtained from other sources, viz.
Monthly Contributions and in In Memoriam donations, the Society has been able to extend its activities during the year 1935 versus 1934 as comparative figures in the following table will show:—

	1935	1934
Relief in Money	$7,816.65	$7,110.00
Education	3,186.13	2,891.63
Rent	1,493.00	1,501.15
Shoes and Clothing	220.00	138.90
Medical Aid	176.39	195.75
Special Grants	258.96	276.63

The Council desires to record here its sincere and heartfelt regret at the demise of Mr. Carlos Augusto da Rosa who had been a regular supporter of the Annual Fete. He was also the Society's auditor from 1924 to 1928.

RELIEF IN MONEY AND PROVISION

During the six months January to June, the Society contributed to the maintenance of 135 families, comprising 218 persons, to whom assistance was given. 733 visits were made to the Poor in their homes and 78 visits in the Hospitals during the period under review.

The disbursement for the whole of 1935 amounted to $7,816.65.
For the first six months of 1936
it was $4,264.50 as against $3,719.60 for the same period in 1935.

SHOES AND CLOTHING
The Society has also assisted the children of these poor people with shoes and clothing. The expenditure under this head in 1935 was $220.00 while for six months ended June 1936 it amounted to $220.00.

MEDICAL AID
Under this head, the expenditure in 1935 was $176.39 while for six months January/June it amounted to $107.55. The Society is deeply grateful to Drs. Ozorio, Guterres and Barnes for their honorary medical treatment and to the St. Raphael Society for the free burials.

HOUSING ACCOMMODATION
Besides paying offers to some of the cases whose special circumstances justify such expenditure, the Society also maintains a 4
storied building at No. 23 Kwong Ming Street, Wanchai, where a number of families are housed;
whilst in Kowloon during the later part of the year two flats at Nam Pak Road, Kowloon City have been secured to accommodate a number of Chinese families. It is the Society's intention to extend this activity further when more funds are available.

The expenditure under this head during the whole of 1935 was $1,493 as against $1,501.15;
this was made possible by the reduction in the rent of the house at Wanchai leased by the Society as recorded in the last annual report. For the six months
January/June it amounted to $734.21.

PASSAGES FOR DISTRESSED PERSONS

In consequence of the acute trade depression, the Society during the year had to deal with several cases of this nature. The disbursement was $157.41 against $125 in 1934. It is the Policy of the Society to enquire into all applications as closely as possible before granting relief. Should passage be required by a deserving case the Society itself arranges for passage ticket. On this matter the Society wishes to express its grateful thanks to some shipping Companies for the generous reduction in their fares.

EDUCATION

This is a work to which the Society devotes much of its time and attention. 107 are receiving an English education at the expense of the Society at St.
Joseph's College, La Salle College,
St. Mary's School, Maryknoll Convent School at St. Francis School, and 34 attending the Society's Vernacular School-The Kai Lap
School, Wanchai. The Council feels glad to report that Kai Lap has continued to maintain its excellent reputation and has been successfully conducted to the entire satisfaction of the children's parents and of the Inspector of Vernacular Schools. An educational subsidy of $90.00 per quarter is being received from the Government and is hereby gratefully acknowledged.

Besides providing education for the children, the Society is also maintaining 3 destitute orphan girls at the Italian Convent, Calne Road. The Society is very grateful for the reduced charges made by these schools.

Under the head of Education,
the Society's expenditure during the six months ended June 1936 was $1,704.30. Of this sum $210-25 was for books and stationery.

The total disbursement in 1935 was $3,186.23 an increase of $294-50 over 1934.

The Council hopes that the Public of Hong Kong will respond sympathetically to the appeal for donations so that the Society may be able to curtail its expenditure on this good work of educating the children of the poor under its care.

ANNUAL GOVERNMENT GRANT

The Council desires to thank the Hong Kong Government most gratefully for the Annual Grant of $1,000.00.

EXPENDITURE 1926-1935

It is interesting to record that during the 10 years 1926-1935 the total disbursement of the Society was $12,517.24. The principal items were:—

Relief in Money & Provision	$72,874.36
Education	37,748.00
Rent	18,569.74
Medical Aid	1,641.75
Shoes & Clothing	2,230.40
Special Grants	3,522.99
Christmas Grants	6,158.00

Owing to the low state of the Society's Funds at the closing of each year, the practice of granting extra relief at Christmas to the Poor under Society's care was discontinued, since 1933. This has been a severe disappointment to our poor people.

GENERAL

Through the invaluable assistance offered by a great number of ladies and gentlemen in the monthly drive for subscriptions, a welcome addition of $2,261.89 to its funds during the whole of 1935 has resulted. The Society has again benefited by "In Memoriam
Donations" to the extent of $502-00 in 1935.

The Council is deeply grateful and desires to convey its very real appreciation and thanks to all those who have helped to augment the Society's Funds in the man-

The Society's special thanks are also due to the Hong Kong Benevolent Society for their willing co-operation, Mr. E. D. da Rosa
A.S.A. for so kindly auditing the accounts, and the Press of Hong Kong for privileges granted.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Contributions towards the Society's Funds during the first six months of 1936 were:—

SEVEN WICKETS FOR 7 RUNS

Sensational Cricket

R.A.S.C. DEFEAT D.B.S.

At the D.B.S. on Wednesday the school was defeated by the R.A.S.C.
by 23 runs.

The start of the school innings was sensational, as the first 7
wickets fell for 7 runs, five batsmen being out without scoring.

Corporal Hopperoff did the hat trick, and Lt. Col. Smith at one time had three wickets for no runs.

The later school batsmen deserve great credit for stopping the run and steadily making the score quite creditable.

The chief credit goes to G. Kew who played really well, but he was bravely helped by T. Matthews and
A. Macauley, each of whom stayed for about half an hour.

Scores:—

R.A.S.C.—109 for 7 wickets declared. (Lt. Col. Forman 52, E.
Fisher 3 for 30).

D.B.S.—86 (G. Kew 35 not out,
A. Macauley 30, T. Matthews 12, Hopperoff 4 for 28, T. Smith 4 for 14).

HELP HONG KONG'S POOR

In presenting this brief summary of the Society's work during the past year and the six months of this year among the suffering Poor of this Colony, the Council feels that it can again appeal with confidence to the generosity of the Hong Kong Public both on the occasion of our "Al Fresco Fete" which will be held in Kowloon on the vacant ground near Rosary Church, Chatham Road, on Sunday November 1st and the Street
Sales of Roses on "Our Poor Day" on December 1st.

The Society depends almost entirely on the success of these two public appeals for the maintenance of its good work. Hong Kong has unfortunately been badly hit by the prevailing conditions in South China but the Council feels that its appeal is a deserving one and that it will receive the generous support which it has met in the previous year from the Public of this Colony.

NO TWO WAYS ABOUT IT.
IT'S THE SCOTCH.

IMPORTANT TO LIVER SUFFERERS

By Dr. Quignon Of The Faculty Of Medicine, Paris

Just now I am kept very busy by an epidemic of "liver" disorders—
a great many people feeling "out of sorts," bilious, depressed and unable to enjoy their food. Undoubtedly the best remedy for an upset liver is provided by certain famous Continental Mineral Springs, but science has now made it possible for all liver sufferers to enjoy, in their homes, all the benefits of Continental Spa treatment, at little cost. By reproducing in crystalline form the essential principles of seven world renowned Spas, including those at Vichy, Carlsbad, Aix-les-Bains and Marienbad, "Alka Saltrates" provides what is probably the finest liver tonic and corrective known.
It is obtainable from all high class
Dispensaries and Stores.

To men and women who are feeling liverish and "out of sorts," and to those who are suffering from Rheumatism, Lumbago, Kidney trouble and High Blood Pressure I can recommend "Alka Saltrates" with confidence and I advise them to start the treatment without delay.

D. Dvorjetz, Mrs. B. Krenov,
Messrs. A. G. Meise, J. du Pac du Marsouilles, T. G. Figgis, J. C.
Forbes, were also on board.

WHALE MARKING OPERATIONS

London, Oct. 15.
It is announced that the Royal Research Ship, William Scoresby, will leave St. Katharine Dock, London in a few days time to continue her whaling operations in the Antarctic. She will touch at Debar and Cape Town and will then proceed south-east to the ice edge in the vicinity of Enderby Land working on this and other whaling grounds as the distribution of whales renders desirable. She will not touch land again until the end of the whaling season in March. During her last marking commission a year ago some 700 whales were marked from William Scoresby. It is possible to regain marks from operations of previous seasons and thus to gather information not only on migrations

SHIPBUILDING PROSPERITY

London, Oct. 15.
The shipbuilding industry is beginning to share in the returning prosperity of United Kingdom. An increase of more than 75 per cent. in tonnage under construction in Great Britain and Ireland compared with year ago is shown in Statistics of Lloyd's Register for the September quarter. 219 vessels of 928,571 tons gross were in hand on September 30—the figures being highest quarterly total recorded since September 1930.

Freight And Asiatic Passengers Returns

(BY LONGSHOREMAN.)

The freight returns, received from the Harbour Office during the 24 hours ended at 9.00 a.m. yesterday, showed a fairly high tonnage movement, a large proportion of which being contributed by British ships.

The total tonnage of general cargo carried by vessels to the Colony was 11,449 tons, with British steamers carrying 3,738 tons.

Through cargo for ports beyond the Colony amounted to 22,465 tons, of which 9,478 tons were carried by British steamers.

Asiatic deck passengers entering into the Colony during the 24 hours ended at 9.00 a.m. yesterday were 2,584, of which 2,179 were from British steamers.

There were altogether fourteen arrivals, of which five were of British registry, the remainder being of other nationalities, while of the 17 departures, eleven were British ships, the rest being of other different countries. Particulars as follows:—

Nationality	Ships	Tonnage

MAGISTRATE THREATENED

In dismissing the application presented at the court by Mr. Lo, His Worship said:—
"I am not sure that this case is strictly suitable for rehearing or review, since, in the first place, the original charge is one which must be taken for committal and I have, therefore, no jurisdiction to dispose of it summarily and, secondly, if I discharged defendant, as was done in this case, it is not a determination of the case but simply a decision that the evidence, as it stands, is insufficient to put the defendant on his trial in the higher court. However, I am prepared to overlook this and treat the application on its merits."

"Mr. Lo at the last hearing submitted that the defendant's solicitor's submission had been incorporated in my ruling. I am not quite prepared to agree with this to the extent of saying that corroboration is necessary in law, but that it has come to be recognised as a rule of practice."

MATERIAL POINT

"Mr. Lo also submitted that whether or not the defendant had venereal disease was immaterial in considering the credibility of the girl's evidence but I disagree with him on this point as in this case, where two parties are alleged to have had relations, it seems to me very material though not conclusive that if one of the parties is suffering from disease the other party is or is not suffering from disease."

"Mr. Lo also said that unless it is suggested that the girl had led her evidence as 'prima facie' evidence, without going to the extent of saying that the girl lied, my decision only goes to the point as to whether there is sufficient evidence to support her statements in a court of law. Thus her evidence as to times, places and circumstances generally must be such as to be both definite and credible. To take one of these circumstances alone, her evidence as to time is vague in the extreme and the original charge, by mentioning the date on or about September 4, directed defendant's attention to that date as was shown by his answer to the charge."

"Mr. Lo also submitted that in the phrase directly implicating the accused, the word 'directly' can mean either (a) corroboration of the circumstances under which the girl was assaulted or when she told her story, etc., or (b) the identity of the accused, and that in this case (b) applied, and the girl said 'My schoolmaster' and the identity which was left was, therefore, quite definite. But this is virtually saying that the girl, by naming a particular person, corroborated her own evidence."

"I quite agree with Mr. Lo that there are factors which, if taken in conjunction with other parts of the evidence, might be taken as corroboration, that is, by some evidence of interference and loss of virginity, but my conclusion is that these, in the absence of sufficient corroborated evidence, are not enough to establish a 'prima facie' case. The application is, therefore, dismissed but the prosecution are not debarred thereby from taking such action as may seem fit at a later date if and when they should come into possession of further evidence."

He then told Sergt. Gough that he had a brother and a relation in the guards, B261 and B500, whom he wished to be transferred to a ship. The defendant was told that the arrangements were made by S. I. Baker.

The defendant then suggested that he could make Sergt. Gough a rich man if he would do this.

SERIOUS MATTER
Sergt. Gough told defendant that it was a serious matter and that he needed a few days' in which to think over the proposition. A day was fixed.

On August 26, as the defendant did not appear on the day appointed, Gough went to S. I. Baker and reported the matter and received instructions.

The defendant eventually came on September 10, and asked Sergt. Gough if he had arranged for the transfer. Sergt. Gough reminded the defendant that there was no such man with the No. 261, and thinking that the defendant had made a mistake suggested 361, which the defendant said might be the man but he was not sure.

Sergt. Gough asked the defendant what transfers he wanted, and was told that Sergt. B361 and B500 should be placed on the S.S. Hai Tan, and he would pay $500. Failing this he wanted them to be transferred to the S.S. On Lee and he would pay $300.

AMOUNTED SUGGESTED
Sergt. Gough said that $200 was not enough and suggested $250. Defendant agreed. The danger of the transfers was pointed out to the defendant.

On September 15 at 7.55 p.m. S. I. Baker and Farquhar and Sergt. Gough, met in the latter's room by arrangement and waited for the defendant.

On hearing the bell S. I. Baker and Sergt. Farquhar went on to the verandah and looking through the door which was slightly opened saw what was going on.

The defendant was admitted and took a seat at the desk. At the mooted and some sceptics had even stated that it would peter out after a few weeks. Capt. Caffyn had always "seen to" the range at Stonecutters for the Association's shoots over there, and had always endeavoured to make everyone feel at home.

Major Walker stated that he wished Capt. Caffyn health, wealth and prosperity and sincerely hoped that he was not saying "good-bye" but "au revoir."

Captain Caffyn, in reply, expressed thanks for the honour accorded him by the Association. He felt almost certain that he would return to the Colony, when he most assuredly would take part in the Association's shoots, this time on Saturday afternoons as well.

Among those who attended the meeting were: Major Walker (President) Major D. H. Steers (Hon. Secretary) T. G. Stokes, W. R. Chester Woods, W. Austin, Sub. Lt. A. C. Ford, Dr. Y. S. Wong, Lt. (E) A. C. Berlyn, R.N., Captain Carless, (R.M.) and Lt. J. D. Pattullo.

same time he took out a roll of banknotes. Sergt. Gough told him to put them away and to complete the arrangements for the transfers. The final decision was that the men were to be transferred to the S.S. On Lee. The money was again produced, and Sergt. Gough asked for a document. The defendant said that he had not brought it. Then Sergt. Gough said that their agreement was off, and at this the defendant suggested writing it at once.

The document was made out written both in English and Hindustani and was signed. The defendant then handed over several banknotes. Immediately the money was being handed over the two officers on the verandah entered the room. The defendant pleaded with the Inspector.

The hearing was adjourned to October 26.
